VANCOUVER, BC, CANADA, February 4, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- According to the latest report by Emergen Research The global blockchain distributed ledger market size is expected to reach USD 228.31 Billion in 2028 and register a steady revenue CAGR of 62.5% over the forecast period, Improved data transparency and accountability in blockchain distributed ledger technology is a key factor driving global blockchain distributed ledger market revenue growth.

Blockchain distributed ledger technology provides better data security to its client enterprises. In general, enterprises are required to stock and share private data between different shareholders involved in a project. Blockchain distributed ledgers help them to store and manage that private information with high level of security. Restricting identity theft, ending denial of service attacks, and avoiding data tampering are three aspects in which blockchain distributed ledgers ensure data security to enterprises. In addition, lower risk of backdoor transactions and reduced unauthorized intervention are some of key benefits of using this technology. It effectively helps to improve payment clearing processes and for this reason, banks and other financial institutions are widely using blockchain distributed ledgers.

The report is formulated through extensive primary and secondary research and is curated with an intent to offer the readers and businesses a competitive edge over other players in the industry. The report sheds light on the minute details of the Blockchain Distributed Ledger industry pertaining to growth factors, opportunities and lucrative business prospects, regions showing promising growth, and forecast estimation till 2028.
