NFTs are the 'holy grail for humans' that will be used for everything [in the future]." Ty Downing, CEO of METANAV says they're already in progress and expect it late 2022, first exclusively to Grumpy Pugs NFT holders, then in time, to the general public. "Obviously there is a lot of work involved in designing and building something like this that will be an amazing experience."—Mr. Downing said.

Considering the market, this partnership could be a very rewarding one for both companies. Reports state that the adoption of the Metaverse and immersive worlds has surged in recent years and show no signs of slowing down. According to Emergen Research, the metaverse has the potential to become an $800 billion space by 2024, which means 43% annual growth between now and then. This is a growth area that is only outpaced by the NFT (non-fungible token) market. Coinbase estimates that the "NFT market-cap forecast to more than $35 billion for 2022 and to over $80 billion for 2025." Serial entrepreneur Gary Vaynerchuck said in Yahoo! Finance: "NFTs are the 'holy grail for humans' that will be used for everything [in the future]."

"It is my pleasure to work closely with METANAV, our Grumpy Pugs Brand and community are very excited for the upcoming year with a number of NFT releases on Opensea, our digital comic book series, and movies in the making, having a platform like what METANAV envisions for the entire Grumpy Pug community is going to be strong for our business and a great partner
