

PALM OIL COMPANY OCHO SUR RELEASES CORPORATE VIDEO 2022

Since our start up in 2016, the shareholders of Ocho Sur have developed a new business model in the Peruvian jungle focused on people and the environment

PUCALLPA, UCAYALI, PERU, February 9, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Since our start up in 2016, the shareholders of Ocho Sur have developed a new business model in the Peruvian jungle focused on people and the environment, a model that is now producing much more than fruit and oils.

Designed under the idea that high-productivity agriculture can and should coexist with environmental conservation and social responsibility, the activities of Ocho Sur are positively impacting the lives of thousands of people, and providing long-term economic alternatives to the informal and illegal activities that have historically dominated the Peruvian jungle.

High-productivity agriculture can and should coexist with environmental conservation and social responsibility promoting inclusive development”
