

Prodapt and CoreStack Partner to Deliver Multi-Cloud Governance for the TMT Market

CoreStack's NextGen FinOps, SecOps, and CloudOps to Empower Prodapt's Managed Cloud Services for Enterprise & Telco Customers in the TMT industry

BELLEVUE, WASHINGTON, UNITED STATES, February 15, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- CoreStack, a global multi-cloud governance solutions provider that empowers enterprises to unleash the power of the cloud by enabling continuous and autonomous cloud governance at scale, today announced its partnership with Prodapt, a leading global technology consulting and managed services provider to the technology, media, and telecommunications (TMT) market. The partnership will enable Prodapt's customers to optimize cloud operational costs while improving security posture and compliance, as well as to offer automated predictive operations by leveraging underlying NextGen multi-cloud FinOps, SecOps, and CloudOps solutions by CoreStack.

"We believe in a holistic consultative approach to continuous and autonomous multi-cloud governance at scale, CoreStack is the perfect match to enhance our managed services offering."
Rajiv Papneja, SVP and Global Head of Cloud & Network Services at Prodapt

CoreStack's solutions provide transformative value to enterprises:

- FinOps provides an organization-wide view of cloud spend as well as granular details by cloud, account, subscription, department, tag, region, inventory, and application
- SecOps provides a continuous cloud security posture and allows enterprises to gain visibility and insights into threats and vulnerabilities by region, resource, type, and age
- CloudOps allows enterprises to break operational siloes

by providing a unified and comprehensive view of key cloud operational metrics

Prodapt and CoreStack Partner to Deliver Multi-Cloud Governance for the TMT Market

"We believe in a holistic consultative approach to continuous and autonomous multi-cloud governance at scale, CoreStack is the perfect match to enhance our managed services offering," said Rajiv Papneja, SVP and Global Head of Cloud & Network Services at Prodapt. "This partnership enables us to integrate cloud governance into a larger set of services offerings in the technology, media, & telecom space. CoreStack's AI-powered multi-cloud governance solution will help us predict and improve security posture and cloud economics for our enterprise customers."

"Today's modern enterprises need a 360-degree visibility across financial, security operations, and cloud operations in an integrated single pane of glass. CoreStack provides that view with its proactive cloud governance solution that prevents and fixes issues before they occur," said Ezhilarasan Natarajan, CEO of CoreStack. "We are excited to provide our NextGen multi-cloud governance capabilities to enhance Prodapt's managed services offering for its enterprise customers."
