

Kent Imaging's CEO, Pierre Lemire, Featured as One of Canada's Leading Innovators

CALGARY, AB, CANADA, February 16, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Pierre Lemire, Kent Imaging's CEO, has been featured in Innovations of the World - celebrating and connecting the world's top innovators, as part of the Calgary, Alberta leaders' profile. Historically, not being known as a medical tech hub, Pierre works with his team and peers to heighten Calgary's profile as a thriving healthcare technology innovation center.

Mr. Lemire is a technology commercialization expert with over 30 years of experience in the high-tech world of imaging. His past roles as a CTO at Autodesk Inc, and co-founder of Calgary Scientific provide key experiences that he uses to guide Kent Imaging's corporate strategy. His passion for building high-tech imaging products has been the driving force of his professional life and has managed to parlay it into a long and rewarding career.

"Whenever I feel daunted or discouraged by a challenge ahead, I remember my high school's motto: luctor et emergo, or "struggle and emerge." When it comes to innovation, struggle is part of the journey. Embrace it."
