There are four considerations in deciding if a package is shipped UPS small packaging or whether it is shipped on a freight line.

Weight and dimension: small packages cannot exceed 165 inches in girth or length exceeding 108 inches regardless of the other dimensions. Cut pieces bigger than 36"x48", light bulbs, and bigger sizes of 48" sign stakes are all examples of large packages. Shipments weighing over 100 lbs may be shipped freight at our discretion.

Total number of packages on the order: any order that has more than four or five packages will most likely be sent on a freight line. Orders are sent in as few packages as possible to help reduce cost, but on occasion there are too many items and the order would be cheaper to ship on a freight line.

How fragile the shipment is: items that are prone to damage including glass items will usually be sent on a freight line.

Generally, UPS charges as follows: Packages over 47" long will be charged a $15 oversize charge. Packages over 50 lbs will be charged a $24 overweight charge. Packages may be charged both an oversize and overweight charge if applicable.

Regional Supply encourages customers to note that every effort will be made to include Production Orders with regularly scheduled shipments. However, depending on the complexity and current lead time involved, production orders may be shipped the following day. Production items include mixed paint, custom cut substrates and custom cut vinyl.
