

National Airlines awarded IATA's CEIV certification for Pharmaceuticals Logistics

National Airlines has been awarded the Center of Excellence for Independent Validators (CEIV) Pharma certification by IATA.

FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, February 16, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- National Airlines has been awarded the Center of Excellence for Independent Validators (CEIV) Pharma certification by IATA. This accreditation formally endorses the company's sustained ability to safely handle high-value, time-sensitive, and temperature-controlled transportation of pharmaceuticals, with the speed and consistency expected by shipper requirements.

The latest certification confirms that National's shipping of pharmaceutical products meets the IATA Temperature Control Regulations and continues to adhere to the international standards and best practices observed in cold chain and pharmaceutical movements over the last three decades. Respective teams in the company have undertaken multi-stage independent audits, employee training, and upgrading of procedures and assessments to validate existing specialized air transport solutions.

This accreditation is indicative of National's coordination in transporting COVID-19 vaccines during the outbreak of the pandemic to different inaccessible regions with the highest levels of
