PHILADELPHIA, UNITED STATES ,
February 16, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/
-- Fatpos Global has released a report titled "Anti-Acne Cosmetics Market- Analysis of Market Size, Share & Trends for 2014 – 2021 and Forecasts to 2031" which is anticipated to reach USD 7 billion by 2031. According to a study by Fatpos Global, the market is anticipated to portray a CAGR of 9.5% between 2021 and 2031. According to the report, the growing demand for Anti-Acne Cosmetics, owing to increasing skin issues among youths. The negative social stigma related to acne and the increasing consumption of cosmetics products by men as well as women, from the emerging economies, are the major variables driving the market development. With rising awareness about personal hygiene globally, the cosmetics industry is estimated to expand in the near future. Increasing appearance consciousness among consumers is fueling the growth of the cosmetic industry.

"One of the market's primary drivers is the rising demand for cosmetic products owing to the increasing concerns related to skin problems and self-consciousness about appearance. Increasing pollution and unhealthy lifestyles have driven adoption of cosmetic products across the globe. The increasing number of working women population is ensuing high demand for anti-acne cosmetic products. Women employees working across different industries are concerned about their appearance, which is expected to drive demand for anti-acne cosmetics.", said a lead analyst at Fatpos Global.
