- Grocery and Natural Foods
- Industrial Products
- Apparel and Accessories
- Equipment
- Machinery
- Document Storage
- PPE Storage
- And much more!

Why Gratton Warehouse Does Better 3rd Party Logistics

While an industrial warehouse and a 3rd party logistics warehouse serve two different concepts, Gratton Warehouse does both exceptionally well.

The industrial side is intended to be multi-purpose and comprehensive, and carries out most warehousing functions. The production area includes packaging, and is coordinated from their offices on the property. Gratton Warehouse has a perfect location as an Omaha warehouse and is located near major streets and the interstate, where they can load and unload goods quickly and efficiently.

As a 3rd party logistics warehouse, Gratton Warehouse can store and distribute almost any material goods such as packaging, equipment parts, semi-finished or finished products, or other goods. Offering an efficient distribution pipe is essential for moving goods during this age of troubled logistics. Gratton Warehouse excels in moving goods through the supply chain with speed, and they continue to look for even better avenues to accelerate this process.

Gratton Warehouse is Causing a Logistics Revolution

With the growing demand for 3rd party logistics, warehouses' and Amazon's emphasis on same-day delivery, Gratton Warehouse is increasingly integrating automated processes and mastering supply chain and large-scale projects. The Omaha-based company can now handle from a single
