DALLAS, TX, UNITED STATES , February 17, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Criminal defense lawyer Phillip Wayne Hayes has achieved unrivaled outcomes in his profession, winning 82 jury trials out of his first 86 in North Texas-area courtrooms — an astounding 95% success rate. Hayes was recently honored with admission into the Lawyers of Distinction organization.

Hayes attributes his victories to his comprehensive knowledge of Texas and federal criminal law and his previous experience as an assistant district attorney in Dallas County. As a former prosecutor, Hayes possesses unique insights into the strengths and weaknesses of government cases against his clients. Hayes has handled more than 8,000 cases total, and he says that much of his success is due to dedication and hard work, along with a propensity to take cases to trial if necessary. In the latter instance, Hayes is known for his preparation, tenacity and aggressive defensive style in the courtroom that have led to improved plea offers for his clients from prosecutors.

Hayes says that he constantly informs himself and stays on top of new developments, changes and legislation in the legal process. In every case, he carefully analyzes his clients' chances, and he always seeks to exploit any weaknesses in government arguments, fighting to protect his clients' rights. His objective is to win an acquittal or the best possible alternative, given the circumstances. Hayes always conducts a thorough investigation into the government's position and will take the time to address any and all of a client's concerns and questions related to their case, based on his extensive experience.

The goal is to enable a client to make the best, most informed decisions and to anticipate any

If the government makes a plea offer, Hayes will help a client evaluate it, and if a case appears that it's going to head to trial, he will work with a client to develop the best trial strategy, based on their individual situation. He knows the repercussions a criminal conviction in Texas brings, and he knows the impact a conviction can have on a client's future. Hayes has an innate understanding of the gravity of his clients' prospects and standing, and he consciously limits the number of cases he takes on, so he can consistently provide his clients with personal service, attention to detail, and the highest-quality defense.
