Ric Conn's innovative use of imagery challenges viewers and activists to think beyond what they can see.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA, February 17, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ric Conn is an internationally known award-winning expressionist artist who is a leading voice in women's inequality and social issues. Since 2020 his message has been crossing the globe for his visual dialog for female empowerment. He has been featured on Fox, CBS, ABC, Medium, The New York Weekly, ArtTour International Magazine, Toscana Cultura in Italy, among other numerous media outlets.

Ric Conn's innovative use of imagery challenges viewers and activists to think beyond what they can see on the canvas and what the painting means on a deeper level. He maximizes the power of art to break down language and cultural barriers, knowing that inequality issues are evident anywhere in the world. Today, he is among the leading voices in amplifying women's hurdles through his creative use of mixed media, including acrylics, inks, oil, gouaches, and charcoal. His portraits of the female persona show worthy narratives ranging from everyday issues to society's most well-buried battles.

Conn presents a thought-provoking visual narrative with bold textures, masterful light, and symbolic imagery. He explores the opposition between reality and perception. His fascination and motivation are amped by realities that appear invisible in our everyday lives, cutting into the core of his subjects' hearts and exposing hidden emotions. Layers of female forms are captured in each of his paintings, focusing on the essence of women's courage and beauty.

painting, I am more committed to the series."

What inspires you most right now?

"My desire to do a good job with the work and say what needs to be said about each subject. My work inspires me. After I finish a painting, I feel good that I told the message, which inspires me to keep going with the series."

What styles are you exploring at this point in your career?

"I am an expressionist painter, so I am not exploring any other style right now. I feel that expressionism is where I am supposed to be."

What impact has nature had on your creative process?

"I have grown up wandering the woods; that's where I get centered. Walking in the woods studying the animals I find calms me and helps me think about my work. So between my figurative paintings, I do wildlife paintings, and I go birdwatching; they refresh me, and then I go back to the easel."
