Erectile Dysfunction

Buenafe Clinic offers multiple ED treatment with the latest technology with options ranging from low intensity shockwave therapy, injection therapy and Trimix treatment and counselling with a certified sex therapist.

Premature Ejaculation

Premature ejaculation involves a complex interaction of psychological and biological factors. A wide variety of treatment options including psychosexual and behavioural therapy through our certified sex therapist, topical and oral medications, as well as the surgical option of penile frenulectomy.

Peyronie's Disease

Peyronie's disease is an acquired penile curvature due to scar tissue in the penile shaft. Treatment plans including therapies such as intralesional injections (PRP, Pentoxifylline, Verapamil), topical and oral medications, low intensity shockwave therapy, surgical options, traction devices and lifestyle modification.

Testosterone Assessment

The need for testosterone replacement therapy may not be reliably determined through a total testosterone measurement. At Buenafe Clinic, we review patient histories, as well as order comprehensive testosterone lab panels to decide if patients need testosterone replacement therapy.

Delayed Ejaculation

Delayed ejaculation can be temporary or a lifelong problem. Treatment options include low intensity shockwave therapy, PRP injections and sex therapy. All therapies apply to both lifelong and acquired DE.

Penile Enlargement

Natural penis enlargement can be possible with injection therapy. No surgery is necessary, and no fillers are used. Injection therapy is a simple and near painless procedure which uses factors drawn from the patient's own blood, and therefore the therapy is non-invasive, with no side effects or risk of allergic reaction from one's own biological material.
