

Imersion Global Publishes White Paper on Hybrid Machine Learning in Title Databases

Title Database Indexing Still Needs Humans

THE WOODLANDS, TX, USA, February 17, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The WoodlandImersion Global (IMG) published its white paper entitled, THE REALITY OF AI / MACHINE LEARNING - Title Database Indexing Still Needs Humans. The document provides an overview of how IMG implements a hybrid system leveraging machine learning algorithms and human title indexers to create sovereignty title databases more efficiently.

"For years many have tried to do 100% AI based indexing with little success. We realized that a human still has to be involved due to the inconsistency of document formats, attorneys, courthouse vendors and other variables beyond anyone's control. Our rules based AI self learning system enhances the productivity of our indexing team by up to 50%." said Anil Adoni, Imersion Global President.

The Document Provides:

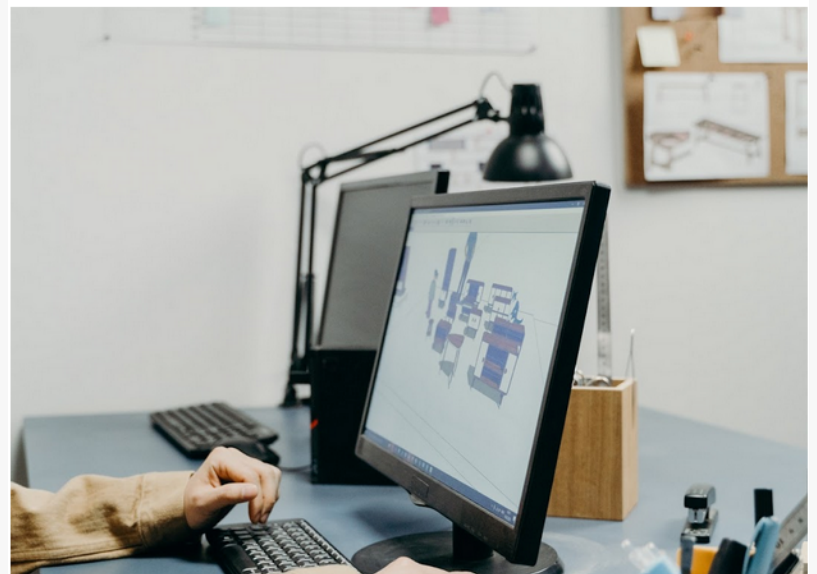

- An overview of machine learning and expectations of the IMG platform
- How this helps real estate title organizations
- AI illustrated workflow of how the process is implemented by IMG
- Conclusions
