Restaurant Supply Store uses technology to improve supply chain issues

DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, February 21, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In 2021 the U.S. trade deficit surged to an all-time high of over 1 trillion dollars. The demands for equipment and goods increased despite the pandemic which created a decrease in products and equipment production. The Commerce Department released a report citing that the trade deficit has risen 27% to its highest level ever as U.S imports far outpaced exports. This perfect storm of pent-up demand meeting decreased supply has hit the Restaurant and Hospitality industry hard. As many restaurants, hotels, and venues seeking to reopen their doors at full capacity and need commercial restaurant equipment, an online retailer is providing a solution to their supply chain struggles. RestaurantSupply.com has leveraged technology and advanced logistics to assist with providing a solid solution to keeping doors around the world open.

Although technological advances have improved and streamlined communication channels in recent years, there are still many gaps within the US food supply chain.”

Technologies that will streamline the restaurant business

Technology is a game-changer in the restaurant industry. Cutting costs, increasing reliability, and streamlining operations are just a few of its benefits. Some of these game-changing technology services emerging are demand forecasting that solves understocking/overstocking issues, warehouse robotics for distribution companies and manufacturers, self-driving trucks, and the use of online technologies that integrate real-time information. Partnering with vendors, suppliers, and distributors that integrate these technologies will help many streamline
