About Panther Quant

Panther Quant ($PNTQ) is the first A.I. based algorithmic trading platform [for spot trading, Defi Protocols and Dex Arbitrage trading] which will analyse the crypto market sentiments in real time to give the most impactful insights for the trader to trade on. The platform will be hedging the exposure of the trader by giving critical insight of the market through powerful AI engines which will scan premium interactive and informative digital platforms (incl. Social Media & analysing 'emojis') to analyse the sentiments of the crypto market in Real-time and curate the trades for the traders, thus giving them an edge while trading. The platform will also introduce the first NFT marketplace where users can not only define trading strategies but also convert their successful strategies into NFTs and trade with other users on the platform and make profits out of every transaction.
