(to be announced)

The surge of headlines surrounding NFTs and the technology's rapid adoption throughout many aspects of our lives has led some to ask what exactly an NFT is. NFTs and other blockchain-based technology are transforming the world's financial sectors operate. To begin, an NFT is an abbreviation for Non-Fungible Token, which means it is irreplaceable and unique. While NFTs come in various shapes and sizes, CryptoReeferNFT is a unique themed, first-ever of its kind, Canna Strain NFT. A Unique Collection of NFT's Cartoonized Buds on the Blockchain. All 840 NFTs are unique, each having its elements and features. (Male & Female avatar versions)

The mad quirky scientific artist, pheno hunter & lead designer of the project, referred to as Professor Reefer, has worked on world-famous projects with globally renowned companies.
