AimeTalk now supports video recording for automated presentations

The video recording feature enables AimeTalk users to record their automated slideshow presentations into video files.

SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, February 28, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Aimesoft today released the video recording feature in its virtual presenter software AimeTalk. This feature enables AimeTalk users to record their automated slideshow presentations into video files, which are ready for posting to video sharing services or social media sites.
AimeTalk is a Multimodal AI-based slideshow automation software (or "virtual presenter" software). It creates virtual presenters that can perform slide presentations in conferences, meetings, or seminars on behalf of the users. AimeTalk is not only for automatic slide presentations but can also be used for product manuals, lecture note presentations, and public service guides.

"With the new feature, our users can now record everything they see, hear or manipulate on AimeTalk. It is useful and convenient for many users who want to save the slideshow video for the next presentation time or for posting to the Web. We are always working on new features to improve the user experience of AimeTalk. This helps us to bring advanced Multimodal AI technologies to the real-world and to serve human lives." said Ted Nguyen, AimeTalk Product Manager.

To turn on the video recording feature, a user just needs to go to the Settings Tab in AimeTalk UI, then select Presenter Window Tab on the left side, click on Screen Recording. After that, the user can also select a target directory for saving the recorded video.
