

The Vice Fund (symbol: VICEX) Begins to Add Holdings in Psychedelic Drug Stocks

DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, March 1, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Vice Fund (symbol: VICEX) invests in industries whose focus, in the Adviser's assessment, may be morally questioned by members of the general public or face funding or regulatory challenges because of social disapproval.

Today, several psychedelic pharmaceutical companies have developed drugs that may effectively treat diseases such as depression and neurological disorders. Several of these drugs are on the regulatory pathway to potential legalization.

While people have used psychedelics for thousands of years; the moral and legal challenges to these drugs remain ever-present. The legalization movement was mainly relegated to fringe movements that operated outside the framework of a pharmaceutical company's regulatory phase trials.

Books such as, "Stealing Fire: How Silicon Valley, the Navy SEALs, and Maverick Scientists Are Revolutionizing the Way We Live and Work" by Steven Kotler and Jamie Wheal, have examined the usage of these drugs mainly among the elite. In our opinion, the next potential phase may provide access to a broader audience.

For many potential candidates for these drugs, psychedelics may offer hope for critical and time-sensitive treatment for severe depression and neurological disorders. The Vice Fund (symbol: VICEX) remains committed to investing in these types of alternatives independent of social disapproval among some in the public.

Mutual fund investing involves risk; principal loss is possible. The Fund will concentrate its net assets in industries that have significant barriers to entry including the alcoholic beverages, tobacco, gaming and defense/aerospace industries, the Fund may be subject to the risks affecting those industries, including the risk that the securities of companies within those industries will underperform due to adverse economic conditions, regulatory or legislative changes or increased competition affecting those industries, more than would a fund that invests in a wide variety of industries. The Fund invests in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. The Fund invests in smaller companies, which involve additional risks, such as limited liquidity and greater volatility. Derivatives may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit, management and the risk that a position could not be closed when most advantageous. Investing in derivatives could result in losing more than the amount invested. If a security sold short increases in price, the Fund may have to cover its short position at a higher price than the short sale price, resulting in a loss.
