Allergy Investigations offers mold inspection and testing services in Carlsbad, California. The company has been helping residents in San Diego County for more than a decade, inspecting residential properties and real estate for potential mold problems. The company serves Carlsbad, CA through its new location in Vista, CA.

Residents in Carlsbad, California may want a mold inspection if their home smells moldy, but they cannot locate the source of the mold odor. For clients who are buying a home or moving into a home in Carlsbad, A&A Mold and Allergy Investigations can help them find out if they need to be concerned about potential mold problems. In addition, a mold inspection may be useful if residents are experiencing health problems when they are at home in the indoor environment.

"We look forward to serving homeowners and residents with the best mold inspection services in Carlsbad, CA," stated Scott Armstrong, Business Operations Manager of A&A Mold and Allergy Investigations. "Customers throughout San Diego County have trusted us for honest answers, integrity and superior customer service for more than a decade."

A&A Mold and Allergy Investigations only offers mold inspection and testing services. Because the company does not offer removal or remediation services, customers can trust that they are working with an independent, third party company with no financial interest to find mold problems and no conflict of interest.
