Phil Wickham walked away as the big winner of the evening as fans awarded his latest release, Hymn of Heaven as ALBUM OF THE YEAR and WORSHIP ALBUM OF THE YEAR and "House of the Lord" as WORSHIP SONG OF THE YEAR and SONG OF THE YEAR. It's only the second time in We Love Awards' decade-long existence that an artist has won both Album and Song of the year categories.

"This is a special album to me," Phil said in his acceptance speech. "Every song was just written to preach to my own soul of who I am in Him and how great Jesus is. It's amazing that this record is doing the same for other people too."

Other artists winning multiple awards during the evening were Riley Clemmons, who took home FEMALE ARTIST OF THE YEAR and POP ALBUM OF THE YEAR, for KING & COUNTRY taking MUSIC VIDEO OF THE YEAR and POP SONG OF THE YEAR for "Relate," and Anne Wilson, who won NEW ARTIST OF THE YEAR and thanked fans for voting her debut single, "My Jesus," as CONTEMPORARY SONG OF THE YEAR.

"I'm just so blown away by how God is using my ministry and my music to impact people," shared Anne. "It's such an honor that I get to do this and spread His name across the world."

A full list of winners is below.

In addition to celebrating the evening's winners, there were 14 live and pre-recorded performances from multiple nominated artists and special guests, bookended between sets from comedian Jeff Allen.

A highlight of the evening was welcoming Dr. Alveda King to the stage who accepted the first annual UNITY Award after a special presentation by President Donald J. Trump.

After leading the audience through "Jesus Loves the Little Children," she encouraged everyone to choose unity over division. "Music has the ability to bring us together. My uncle, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. said, 'we must learn to live together as brothers and sisters, or perish together as fools.' For everyone who loves Christian music everywhere, thank you so very much for this award. God bless you."

The full 2-hour show is now available to watch on-demand on Facebook and YouTube.
