

METABLAZE, a Metaverse-themed GameFi Token is Expected to Emerge as one of the Fastest Growing Cryptocurrencies in 2022.

Considered as one of the fastest-growing cryptocurrencies in 2022, Metablaze's presale is officially reopened on the 4th of March.

UNITED STATES, March 4, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- A few years ago, the idea that there might be another digital universe beyond Facebook or Google+ seemed like pure science fiction but it's happening again, all thanks to blockchain-powered gaming, cryptocurrency, and the Metaverse.

The Metaverse is a new buzzword that refers to an alternate world powered by augmented reality, representing the real world where people can socialize, work, play, and earn.

The excitement for this new Metaverse-Themed Cryptocurrency, METABLAZE, is reaching epic proportions. With its striking similarities to Metaverse-themed cryptocurrencies: Axie Infinity (AXS), The Sandbox (SAND), and Decentraland (MANA), METABLAZE is expected to soar in value as it offers significantly more utility including reward mechanisms like that of SAFEMOON.

A Meta-Massive Response Seconds After Opening Presale.

The public presale officially began on February 22nd, and seconds after opening, METABLAZE was bombarded with over 1000 presale purchases from the ever-growing community. In fact, the sheer volume of purchasing traffic caused a break in API links between METABLAZE and its prominent crypto payment processing partner, CoinPayments. In short, APIs are programming interfaces that connect platforms or programs, allowing them to make queries and exchange data. During this time, METABLAZE temporarily paused the presale to rectify the issue with CoinPayments. This gave METABLAZE an early opportunity to display strong management capabilities and garnered even more support as the community received such high-level customer service.

Today, March 4th, the presale has officially reopened and is accessible through their Website.
