

Multi-photo editing app Batched donates all the profit to support Ukraine

Made in Ukraine editing app Batched will donate all the profit to support Ukraine in war with Russia.

LVIV, UKRAINE, March 7, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Multi-photo editing app Batched will donate all the profit to support the Ukrainian army in war with Russia. That decision was made just before the launch of the app in the App Store. Developer company ADVA Soft is well-known not only for its top-rated object removal app TouchRetouch but for its strong civic position.

In addition to personal and corporate donations, humanitarian help, the company's leadership decided to donate all the profit from the Batched app to support Ukraine.

After successful beta testing late last year, multi-photo editing app Batched is available for iOS and iPadOS. The app was long-awaited and ADVA Soft hopes to please users with its functionality.

The main feature of the app is the possibility to edit multiple photos at the same time. Users can see all imported photos in a grid by 2 or 3 pictures in a row. Batched allows editing all imported photos simultaneously or linking and editing some of them. This feature gives users unsurpassed freedom and control over the process.

Batched has got freemium model and every iPhone user can install it for free. ADVA Soft values users' time and comfort above all, so there will be no ads in the free version.
