What is Code Red Club?

In essence, Code Red Club is the ultimate metaverse dedicated to virtual gaming content. Designed for gamers and collectors alike, this new ecosystem consists of NFT eSports cards collection and competition in tournaments and single fights in the esports and games metaverse. coderedserver.dao accepts storage requests up to 31GiB in size per individual upload!

coderedserver.dao .dao stands for Decentralized Autonomous Organization (DAO), sometimes called a decentralized autonomous corporation (DAC), which is an organization represented by rules encoded as a computer program that is transparent, controlled by the organization members and not influenced by a central government. In other words, they are member-owned communities without centralized leadership. A DAO's financial transaction record and program rules are maintained on a blockchain.

Thanks to this amazing collection, holders can trade and collect exquisite NFT eSports video cards. What's more, each CodeRed match will be driven by HODL $CRED token sponsorships, increasing the valuation of the $CRED token thus increasing the valuation of the CodeRed tournament prizes.

With the tournaments from codered.club , you can enter Multiplayer tournaments and Matches and get paid for it in $CRED!

Code Red Club Token ($CRED) is dedicated to the fans of the unique global eSports and game streaming, and it aims to revolutionize the cryptocurrency industry. Its presale will be held via the Presale page on the website. The presale is expected to sell out significantly fast due to the anticipation within the community.

You can have fully personalized custom $CRED matches exactly as you want them to be. Totally on your own. Or you can challenge other players in the competitive, multiplayer mode.

The $CRED Games bounty has an allocation of 30.000.000.000.000 or 30% of the outstanding $CRED tokens, to provide real tangible incentive for eSports tournaments, matches & fights and NFT eSports video card bounty! Enjoy Different competition styles.

If you don't want to enter in tournaments and matches or games, codered.club is currently offering Farming with 600% APY

The Meta codered.club IPFS Cluster nodes have been upgraded to the latest versions.

The global gaming market was valued at USD 173.70 billion in 2020, and it is expected to reach a value of USD 546 billion by 2026. In 2021 alone, players spent a whopping 61,000,000,000 USD (61B USD) on in-game items but received nothing back. The gaming industry is immense but flawed, built on one-sided models that limit user ownership.

It's time to change this, instead giving players ownership, incentives and control of their winning game aspects!

Code Red Club with codered.club is setting the new tournament metaverse benchmark in the global video gaming market!

Rising viewership will create greater levels of competition between content streaming platforms, including Twitch and YouTube. CodeRed is Aligning eSports events with other industries, such as crypto and NFT industries, which will provide these streaming platforms with opportunities to attract new users.

CodeRed NFT offers new streaming platforms that can cater for the differences in geographical regions, by including locally popular streamers and games titles into eSports events.
