

Divorce.com Acquired By Featheringill Capital

Partnership Brings Expansive Online Divorce Platform under One Powerful Domain

SEATTLE, WA, UNITED STATES, March 8, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Featheringill Capital has announced its acquisition of Divorce.com, the premier affordable online divorce platform whose core team pioneered online divorce more than two decades ago.

Featheringill's financial backing and strategic partnership will underpin the mission of Divorce.com to reduce the time, stress, and trauma of the divorce process through a range of online divorce tools.

"In Divorce.com, we recognized a group of experts who had passion for changing divorce to reduce collateral damage and waste," said Featheringill Managing Partner Liz Pharo. "This acquisition is an exciting chance to bring a first-of-its-kind, full-spectrum online divorce platform to greater scale. We've seen how Divorce.com can lighten the load for so many going through an already painful time. Imagine the societal change that could happen if most divorcing couples could just 'Divorce.com it.'"

"We're pleased to partner with Featheringill to fully actualize our suite of offerings to help divorcing couples," said Bob Butterworth, CEO of Divorce.com. "From the start, we saw so much inefficiency in the divorce process, resulting in more stress, more cost, and more anger for the divorcing couple. We exist to do away with all of that. Experience has shown us that by helping people move forward in a less combative, more efficient, and more affordable way, the financial burdens and emotional toll on the family and children can be significantly eased."

Divorce.com was represented by JEGI CLARITY, a leading independent investment bank for software, tech-enabled services, media, information, and marketing companies.
