

iRestify - Canada's All-In-One Building Maintenance SaaS, Raises 6 Million to Expand into the USA Real Estate Market

This move enhances iRestify's ability to provide enterprise-level technology solutions to property managers across North America.

TORONTO, CANADA, March 10, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- iRestify, Canada's leading PropTech (real estate technology) provider of enterprise-level building maintenance services, announced its expansion into the United States after securing additional funding from key investors. The round was led by co-investors PBJ Capital and Gutbrain Ventures, with participation from Birchmere Ventures, Converge, EDC, and Joint Effects.

iRestify Co-founders, Erifili Morfidis and Charlotte Gummesson

Spearheaded by serial entrepreneurs Erifili Morfidis and Charlotte Gummesson, iRestify innovatively uses technology to digitize and simplify workflows of building maintenance for property managers and building owners. Leveraging technology capable of handling enterprise-level, multi-residential, and commercial properties, iRestify has been adopted by many renowned property management brands, including Minto and Canadian Urban.

"iRestify's impressive technology solution and service has truly changed the landscape of building maintenance/janitorial services. Innovation has always been a part of our core values, and we are constantly exploring ways to improve how we manage our buildings. With iRestify, we are preparing ourselves for the future of property maintenance."

- Maurice Able, Regional Manager, Minto Apartment REIT

"We are extremely pleased with our partnership with iRestify. Their cutting-edge technology allows us to enhance the management of our Janitorial operations. Delivering exceptional services to our tenants and visitors is what sets us apart, and we will continue to expand with iRestify to stay cutting-edge.”

- Adil Shareef, Property Manager, Canadian Urban Limited

“After an initial successful soft launch in New York, we’re very excited to announce the further expansion plans made possible by this latest funding. We look forward to our continued growth, helping new property managers and owners across the U.S,” said Morfidis, Co-Founder of iRestify.

iRestify has been growing and powering through the pandemic, experiencing ever-increasing demands for its services across Canada. It is easy to see why iRestify is getting significant interest from the property management industry. With iRestify, property managers can reach productivity levels that were unimaginable just a few years ago. It allows them to effectively stay on top of property maintenance operations without the usual stress. The transparency and access to real-time maintenance data made available through this technology allow tenants to in turn feel more safe and secure in buildings managed with iRestify.

We’re very excited to announce the further expansion plans made possible by this latest funding. We look forward to our continued growth, helping new property managers and owners across the U.S.”
