Nearly 300 firms sought to participate in this year’s program, conducted by SIA and Quantum Workplace, of Omaha, Nebraska. connection and community. Continuous investment in the growth and development of new and existing employees not only enriches clinicians’ careers but ensures clients’ expectations are exceeded. Aequor Co-CEO Kamal Virdi says, “Leadership appreciates that a positive company culture is more than a tool to attract talent and boost productivity—it’s a core principle that makes our employees feel valued, supported and trusted.”

“Congratulations to all of the Best Staffing Firm winners for an excellent job in a challenging environment,” said Barry Asin, SIA President. “As we have seen time and again, building a high-performing culture is critical to the long-term success of staffing firms. These firms have demonstrated the ability to develop and maintain a strong and positive culture where employees can do their best work.”
