

Zymöl Protects Electric Vehicles

Electric vehicle owners all have the common question of how to protect their investment.

BROOKSVILLE, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, March 10, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Three years ago Zymöl announced ION. A Positive Ionic wax that uses a hydrogen bonded Carnauba/Lotus wax polymer emulsion.

Electric Car Wax

Zymöl ION works by using the inherent negative charge of the electric car's body which attracts and holds Zymöl's 'positively charged' ION wax coating.

For years the 'Electric Car' was an alternative but now that fuel sources are running low and pricing is climbing every day, the 'Electric Car' is fast becoming the safe choice”

Charles Bennett Zymöl CEO

Every time the car is washed or exposed to rain the ION bonding becomes active again. This reactivation increases surface protection and offers a continual water repelling self cleaning affect.

This established science means a cleaner, better protected car even during the worst weather and everyday use. ION only requires a single application to start and a light mist after the car has been washed.

Zymöl ION misting spray is propellant, co2 and solvent free supporting a clear view to protecting the user, their car and our environment.

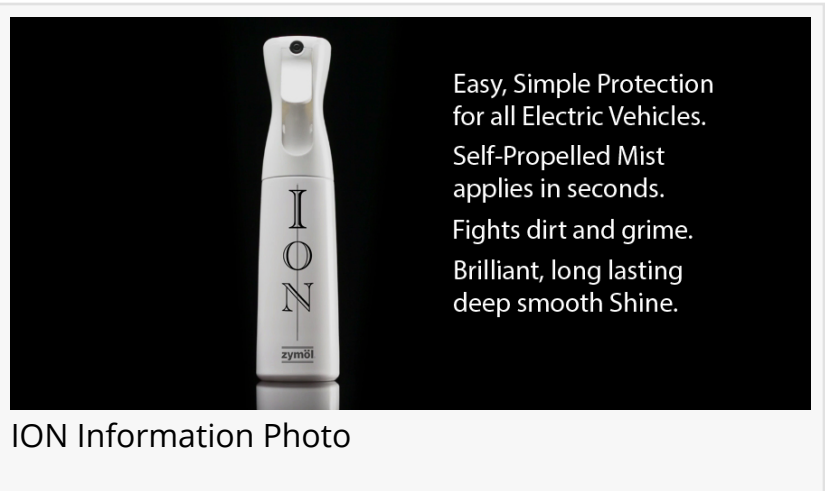

“For years the 'Electric Car' was an alternative but now that fuel sources are running low and pricing is climbing every day, the 'Electric Car' is fast becoming the safe choice that needs to be protected.” says Charles Bennett Zymöl CEO.

Electric vehicle owners all have the common question of how to protect their investment and Zymöl ION is the brilliant answer.

Zymöl ION is available exclusively on Amazon.
