

Roni Lee Releases Video for "Prisoner" On YouTube Featuring Lynn Sorensen About Addiction From A Parent's Viewpoint

"Prisoner" co-written by famed rock guitarist Roni Lee and musician Lynn Sorensen tells of the journey dealing with the addiction of a loved one.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, March 14, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Iconic rock guitarist Roni Lee and bassist Lynn Sorensen (Paul Rogers/Bad Company) have more in common than just writing and playing music together. The long-time friends have faced a lot over the years including dealing with close loved ones who have struggled with addiction. This experience resulted in "Prisoner," a deeply personal song they wrote to describe the journey from a parent / family member's perspective.

Rock musicians Roni Lee and Lynn Sorensen's song "Prisoner" deals with loved ones battling addiction.

The video for "Prisoner" debuts March 14th exclusively on Roni's YouTube Channel @RoniLee.

Addiction affects more than just the addicted and we hope and pray "Prisoner" speaks to you like it does us. We wrote it to encourage and inspire to keep fighting the good fight."

The song appears on her upcoming EP Doll Face slated for release April 22 on her own imprint Play Like a Girl Records and will be available on all digital platforms.

"It's a terrible thing for everyone around that loves the person involved, so reach out, get some help," said Lynn Sorensen.

Addiction is a major health crisis with drug overdoses the #1 cause of accidental death in the U.S. According to the latest statistics, 1 in 3 households suffer from, are exposed to, or are otherwise impacted by addiction with 45 million people in the U.S. affected by the addiction of a loved one. If you or a family member need help dealing with addiction, contact: SAMHSA (The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration) to find help near you at 1-800-662-4357.

Known for her scorching guitar skills, Roni Lee will support her new musical offerings via a U.S. tour coming in the fall as well as select dates throughout the spring and summer. Tickets for her live shows will be announced soon. Check her website RoniLeeGroup.com for the latest news and tour updates.
