

Must High-Tech Expo announces Advanced Connectivity/5G Day event to explore the Telecom industry Innovations in 2022

We organize Advanced Connectivity Day event to bring together players, from across the 5G ecosystem to explore technology trends and innovations.

PARIS, ÎLE-DE-FRANCE, FRANCE, March 17, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- By 2026, 5G will be deployed in almost every region to boost connectivity performance, drive innovation, and unleash tremendous business opportunities by developing new consumer's experiences and new industrial uses cases like advanced automation to tackle the metaverse, Industry 4.0 or deploy massively IoT in a Smart city. The combination of 5G with AI, VR/AR/XR will probably transform our digital experience and bring it to another level, and even change our way to learn and to behave as citizen. In countries with full 5G implementation, the first use of augmented and virtual reality (AR/VR) technology applied in holographic communication tools could be within the next year.

In this conference, we would like to develop around the latest innovations making 5G and beyond (LPWA, hybrid networks) more performant and affordable, an outlook of the HW & SW roadmap, as well as the latest successful use cases for verticals deployment and specifically in massive IoT ecosystem.

Among the speakers, you will meet technology leaders of the Advanced Connectivity and 5G industry as well as most recognized startups with disruptive technologies.
