

FutureDude Entertainment Inks Deal With Gunpowder & Sky's Sci-Fi Label DUST

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, USA, March 14, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Production company FutureDude Entertainment helmed by writer, director and producer Jeffrey Morris, will be showcasing Parallel Man: Infinite Pursuit and Oceanus: Act One on Gunpowder & Sky's sci-fi label, DUST as part of their development deal. www.futuredude.com

The deal includes the showcase of the animated world-hopping adventure Parallel Man: Infinite Pursuit starring the talented voices of Ming-Na Wen (The Book of Boba Fett, Mulan), John Cho (Star Trek), and Lance Reddick (John Wick) on March 28th and the live-action underwater Oceanus: Act One on April 18th starring Sharif Atkins (Guardians of the Galaxy), Bruce Davison (X-Men), Megan Dodds (For All Mankind) and Malcolm McDowell (Star Trek: Generations) exclusively on DUST.

"FutureDude Entertainment is tremendously honored to premiere our groundbreaking shorts on DUST. These films are but a sneak peek into the varied and unique neo-classic universes we've been carefully crafting for fans of intelligent and thought-provoking sci-fi entertainment." said Morris.

"We are thrilled to have the opportunity to showcase the unique stories of Parallel Man and Oceanus. Exciting and fast-paced, both films immediately draw the viewer into their fascinating stories. Our DUST audience will no doubt be captivated by the sight of these amazing new worlds brought to life in incredible detail" said Asia Hayes, manager of programming at DUST.

Parallel Man: Infinite Pursuit is the story of Nick Morgan—a super soldier chased through the multiverse by commandos from a totalitarian regime. To escape, he jumps between parallel Earths including a polluted industrial hellscape; a planet where dinosaurs evolved into humanoids; and a fungal world populated by giant mushrooms.

Jeffrey Morris, Founder & CEO of FutureDude Entertainment

Oceanus: Act One takes us to the year 2029 when an amazing breakthrough in whale/human communication is at a hand. Before the final experiment can be conducted, a marine biologist and her aquatic engineer husband are caught in a catastrophic global disaster that separates them from each other and their spectacular underwater city.
