Curcuru Agency now offers Coterie's:

General Liability

General Liability is the most common form of insurance for small businesses, as every single professional is required to have some form of general liability coverage. Coterie offers both standard, year-long policies, as well as flexible duration, project-based coverage through our partners.

Business Owners Policy

A Business Owners Policy (BOP) is more versatile and protects both a business owner's business and property – all in one package (typically combining General Liability and Property Insurance). This type of insurance for small businesses can reimburse the policyholder for damaged personal property.

Professional Liability

Professional Liability (PL), also known as Errors and Omissions, a type of liability insurance that covers you for failure to uphold contractual promises in mostly service-based professions.
