

Post Oak Roofing is Proud to Be Accepted by the Cool Roof Rating [CRRC] Council as its Newest Member

For a healthy environment by using top low-emissions roofing available to the roofing industry today, Post Oak Roofing is honored to be accepted by the CRRC.

DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, March 16, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As an expert roofing contractor, Post Oak Roofing has worked hard to make sure that our roofing services are always on the cutting edge of technology, and now have plans to go a step further by becoming a member of the CRRC, Cool Roof Rating Council. Post Oak's goal is to provide East Texas homeowners with the most efficient roofing systems possible and reduce energy costs for every home and commercial building's roof installed, a new roof for which we will be able to deliver with our Cool Roof Rating Council certification.

The CRRC is the gold standard for cool roofs, and we will now be able to provide our clients with the most advanced roofing solutions that can save money while also reducing their carbon footprint”

Ronnie Boudreaux

With this certification, Post Oak Roofing can guarantee that our East Texas roofing services improve energy efficiency by reducing heat gain in buildings through high reflectivity and high thermal emittance of roof surfacing materials. By offering cool roofs, we will be able to help our clients reduce air conditioning costs, improve the comfort and productivity in buildings, and lower carbon emissions from fossil fuel-burning power plants. As an organization dedicated to promoting energy efficiency for both residential and commercial consumers, we want our customers to know that we always put their needs first and are always looking for new ways to offer them value at an affordable price.

At Post Oak Roofing, we believe that every Texas homeowner should have access to the money-saving benefits that come with an energy-efficient home. Being part of the CRRC is just one more way we're looking out for our clients at Post Oak Roofing, as we believe that our customers are more than just clients; they're our neighbors, family members and friends who deserve nothing less than our absolute best.

If you have any question, we're more than happy to discuss our CRRC, Cool Roof Rating Council certification in detail and help you understand how they'll benefit you as our client. We are excited to add this label to our resume and continue servicing the community! If you'd like to learn more about our services, please give us a call today!
