Mohamed Hussein, PGLS CEO

Slator is a leading provider of news, analysis, and research for the language services industry. The Slator LSPI is a ranking, by order of revenue, and index of the world's largest LSPs, and segmented into four groups: Super Agencies, Leaders, Challengers, and Boutiques. The 2022 LSPI included more than 300 companies.

Nimdzi is a market research and international consulting company. The Nimdzi 100 concentrates on ranking LSPs with $10 million or more in total revenue (not specific to language services). Nimdzi estimates that the language services industry reached $60.5 billion in 2021, and at a CAGR of 7.0%, is projected to be $84.9 billion by 2026.

"I am thrilled to see the industry growing and grateful for the positive contributions of our PGLS team, clients, partners, advisors, and friends. This momentous designation was made possible through the dedication of these exceptional and talented individuals who consistently help to bridge communication gaps around the world every day. I believe this is just the tip of the iceberg and I couldn't be more excited for what's to come."—Mohamed Hussein, PGLS CEO

PGLS is a leading provider of comprehensive multilingual Translation, Interpretation, and Language Training solutions in over 200 languages and dialects.
