

DSG Global's Imperium Electric Vehicle Division to Move Operations to New 100,000 Sq Ft Headquarters in Silicon Valley

SURREY, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA, March 21, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DSG Global, Inc. (OTCQB: DSGT) ("DSGT" or the "Company"), an emerging leader in the Electric Vehicle and Golf Car markets, is excited to announce that the Company's Electric Vehicle Division, Imperium Motor Corp, is moving to a new and larger home base in the Silicon Valley region of California.

The new location has over 100,000 square feet of space that includes production areas, office space, and a much larger showroom.

"It didn't take long to outgrow our location in Fairfield, and we realized relatively quickly that we would need additional space to accommodate our primary Imperium SEV rollout," stated Robert Silzer, CEO of DSG Global. "The additional space is necessary as we ramp up operations and see growing interest and a need to widen our Distribution, Assembly, Parts and Service support."

The Company's new location is in Milpitas, California, right in the heart of Silicon Valley, just one exit down from the Fremont Tesla Production Plant. Over 14 well-known EV companies are also headquartered in Silicon Valley, including Lucid, NIO, Bytom, Rivian, Proterra, Mercedes-Benz Research and Development (MBRDNA), and several others.

This facility is also very well equipped to assemble the new line of "Shelby" performance brand Golf Carts. These volume-production carts have performance and convenience upgrades to ensure they truly are the "Shelby of Golf Carts." There are three models available: Shelby GT-350[®], Shelby GT-500[®], and the ultimate in performance, the Shelby Cobra which is up to 96% more powerful than a standard electric cart.

Vantage Tag will also be assembling its new high-quality private label Vantage Golf Cart line up that was introduced to the world market at the annual PGA show earlier this year. These Vantage golf carts will feature high-capacity, long-range Lithium battery packs; a state-of-the-art auto-park braking system; maintenance-free, brushless AC motor technology; onboard fast charging; state-of-the-art service; and Bluetooth telemetry.

"The golf cart industry has been stagnant even as new innovations pile up," added Silzer. "This multi-billion-dollar industry is ripe for disruption and our value proposition is set to revolutionize this market. The industry is certainly paying attention with sales from retail dealers to distributors worldwide vying to participate to get ahead in the next-gen, new-look cart market with GPS TAG functionality installed as a standard feature.”
