

Archlet and Per Angusta enter partnership to drive seamless Procurement Performance Management and sourcing execution

ZÜRICH, SWITZERLAND, March 22, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Archlet, the user-first holistic decision software company that helps Procurement make better sourcing decisions faster, and Per Angusta, the global leader in Procurement Performance Management, today announced a new partnership to streamline the strategic sourcing process at the intersection between Procurement Performance Management and sourcing execution by connecting the two leading platforms.

Archlet x Per Angusta - Delivering increased Procurement Performance together

The partnership will allow Archlet customers to take advantage of Per Angusta's opportunity tracking and management capabilities, thus enabling them to strategically plan and execute sourcing opportunities. Per Angusta customers can directly create tenders in Archlet from the pipeline management tool to benefit from advanced sourcing analytics and scenario optimization capabilities. By automatically capturing the achieved savings and impact of each sourcing event in Per Angusta, the end-to-end sourcing process gets streamlined.

By connecting performance management with sourcing, analytics & scenario optimization capabilities, we simplify & improve critical tasks of strategic sourcing managers and improve their efficiency.”

Lukas Wawrla, Co-Founder of Archlet

“Best-of-breed is at the core of our approach for Procurement Performance Management. As such, enabling our customers to access the most relevant solution for a specific context is critical”, said Pierre Laprée, CEO & Founder of Per Angusta. “The partnership with Archlet will empower our customers to effortlessly initiate simple and complex sourcing events in Archlet straight from Per Angusta. When the bid is awarded, the data will flow back naturally to Per Angusta to report on performance. Once again, 2 modern actors demonstrate that being open and interconnected delivers dramatically higher value."

"By seamlessly connecting Per Angusta's performance management capabilities with Archlet's strategic sourcing, analytics, and scenario optimization capabilities, we align and simplify two critical tasks of strategic sourcing managers," added Archlet co-founder Lukas Wawrla. "This improves their overall user experience and drives process efficiency, which is an underlying principle of our mission to empower better sourcing decisions faster."
