CBD is often used by people in Japan and overseas who have trouble sleeping, anxiety, stress, some types of pain and those in need of relaxation. A growing amount of research indicates that dogs and cats with similar needs can benefit from the use of CBD, if the products are formulated properly for these generally smaller animals.

“

While we are a company of many firsts in the CBD world in Japan, we have really taken our time to do the R&D necessary to identify the best CBD products for pets in Japan.”

Michael Bobrove, Founder and CEO of HealthyTOKYO

The PetCBD products from HealthyTOKYO are manufactured in the company's Edogawa factory, which is properly licensed for pet food production. The products are specially formulated with HealthyTOKYO's premium CBD isolate for pets with 100% natural and vegan ingredients.
