The launch of several favorable initiatives by government bodies aimed at boosting domestic and traditional industries is primarily driving the handicrafts market. In line with this, the growing popularity of conventional handicraft production techniques, such as hand dyeing, woodblock printing, handloom weaving, etc., to produce ceramics, glasswork, and other accessories is further catalyzing the market growth. Moreover, the expanding e-commerce sector is helping handicraft merchants in attracting customers across countries, which is acting as another significant growth-inducing factor. In addition to this, the growing tourism industry and the emerging influencer culture are providing local artisans and handicraft manufacturers with opportunities to produce and sell commoditized products to tourists, who, in turn, are eager to purchase souvenirs and other craft items. This is anticipated to fuel the handicrafts market over the forecasted period.
