"A five-star auction house. It has THE best things, and even though it's an auction, and you can win or lose, the prices are great. The premium is hefty but still worth it. Customer service is great, and if you buy something big, they will help you move it. I've bought countless things from this auction, and I plan on still doing so." -Georges L.

"Michaans is the place to go. Their annex and gallery have very high-end things, beautiful antiques, and sometimes great prices. I have bought many items from here, all very high-end pieces, and I've never been disappointed with the price or the item! Customer service is mediocre, but making an appointment is easy, and the caller is very kind. Most of the bad reviews are little things that can go wrong anywhere. It's always worth a try" -San F.
