SIPPIO*

The Provider Exchange program enables cloud peering connectivity between Zoom Phone and the BYOC PSTN Provider to be seamless, secure, and simple with an intuitive partner app available on the Zoom marketplace.

Since 2019, SIPPIO has been at the forefront of cloud telephony, building a robust global network that enables true PSTN voice calling in over 70 countries.

Working exclusively through the channel, SIPPIO gives resellers and carriers the ability to enhance their offering and augment their services in new markets and territories; alongside a powerful partner toolkit to manage quoting, sales, migrations, and activations.

“We're really proud to have the first available solution in the Zoom's Provider Exchange program”, says Dawn-Marie Elder, COO and General Manager at SIPPIO.

“Beyond simple talk and listen, Zoom Phone provides a rich telephony suite for end-users, powering a seamless work from anywhere experience. Together with SIPPIO’s established toolset and global footprint, Zoom Phone is the future of business voice calling, and I’m excited our customers will be the first to benefit from this combined offering.”

“We’re thrilled to welcome SIPPIO to the Zoom Phone Provider Exchange,” says Graeme Geddes, Head of Zoom Phone and Zoom Rooms. “The Provider Exchange is the new way for Zoom Phone BYOC customers to choose their preferred provider. Customers can follow a streamlined, self-service journey to select SIPPIO and easily provision phone numbers.”

Zoom Phone Provider Exchange will become available later this year.
