/EINPresswire.com/ -- According to a new report published by Allied Market Research, titled, "Europe Flatbread Market" by Product Type, Distribution Channel, and Nature: Europe

Opportunity Analysis and Industry Forecast, 2021–2027," The Europe flatbread market size was valued at $9,552.7 million in 2019, and is projected to reach $16,479.4 million by 2027, registering a CAGR of 9.5% from 2021 to 2027.

A flatbread is prepared with flour, water, and salt, and subsequently rolled into flattened dough. The thickness of the bread can range from a few millimeters to a few centimeters. Moreover, rather than using a fork or spoon, many people use a flatbread to wrap or scoop food. Multigrain variants of flatbread are gaining popularity, owing to increase in health awareness among European consumers. Different types of flatbreads are made by pouring semi-fluid batters onto cooking plates. These batters are often obtained from gluten-free cereals such as rice, sorghum, teff, maize, or black beans, which are fermented.

The Europe flatbread market has been witnessing increase in innovation in the last few years. For instance, new refrigeration technologies and modern baking concepts have helped to improve the quality of flatbread. Furthermore, flatbreads that are non-GMO with no artificial preservatives, chemicals, dough conditions, or gums have gained high traction in the recent years.

Increase in preference of consumers toward gluten-free flatbread products such as naan, pita, and focaccia, owing to rise in health cautiousness drives the growth of the Europe flatbread market. Moreover, availability of various healthy alternatives in the market with low-calorie content and fat-free & cholesterol-free products is expected to fuel the market growth. Furthermore, surge in demand for breads in wheat base and whole grains, which are rich in fiber and proteins, supplement the growth of the Europe flatbread market.
