“We did small amounts of local advertising, but we grew mostly by word of mouth. It was great for both of us because we got to know lots of people and we made friends with our customers. We both think it's important to spend time with people, find out their pest control needs and provide a professional complete service.”

-Lee Pierce

In 2010, Eliot Pierce and Ryan Williamson officially joined Pest Patrol, Inc. Their initial duties included bee removal and pest control sales, gradually expanding into termite inspection and repair. Under their leadership, Pest Patrol,
