Jacob now offers a review of Robbie Cabral's BenjiLock FingerPrint Padlock as seen on SharkTank. Jacob says, “The technology and device is world class, especially at the price. Incredible!”

Andy Jacob says, “Robbie Cabral's story is amazing”. After being laid off from work and extremely overweight, Robbie Cabral woke up one day and decided to do better, not only for himself but also for his family, so he started going to the gym. He noticed how people were using their lockers on a daily basis and the issues they were constantly having. From forgetting their combinations, leaving their keys inside to having to bolt-cut the locks, Robbie wanted to find a solution to their problems and that's where BenjiLock was born. After years of fine-tuning his prototype, he decided to unveil it to the world in 2017 as a first-time exhibitor at the biggest consumer electronics show in America, CES. Robbie's passion made him create an electrifying // Eureka // moment at the Consumer Electronics Show. Not only did BenjiLock get discovered by major retailers, such as ACE Hardware and The Grommet, but it also won Innovation Awards honorees. This also helped him land a casting call on ABC's Shark Tank, which he ultimately pitched to the Sharks and secured a bite from Kevin O'Leary aka Mr. Wonderful.

Cabral says "Being a one-man army, I felt that "Shark Tank" was a great move for myself and my company. To pitch my passion in front of such powerful entrepreneurs was truly the American Dream."

The journey for BenjiLock was just getting started! The leading security and hardware innovator Hampton Products International, the makers of BRINKS locks, noticed the excitement about the brand at CES and the award-winning hybrid patented technology around it. In less than a year, due to these secured thrilling partnerships, BenjiLock has become a reality, securing distribution and manufacturing with some of the biggest names in the industry, including ACE Hardware, Walmart, Home Depot, QVC, Lowe's and much more.
