

Banana Flour Market - Global Industry Analysis, Size, Share, Growth, Trends, and Forecast, 2021 - 2030

It had become a major product for consumption because of its health benefits and low calories.

PORTLAND, 5933 NE WIN SIVERS DRIVE, #205, OR 97220, UNITED STATES, April 1, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Banana is one of the majorly consumed and used fruit in the tropical and sub-tropical regions. The banana flour is made from the green bananas. It provides various benefits and features such as rich in dietary fibers, carbohydrates, protein essential amino acids, cellulose, starch, resistance starch, and potassium. It is used as gluten-free product and has low calories. Therefore, its surge in the demand for banana flour has been witnessed. However, unstable economic conditions, lower prices, and less R&D in the banana flour market are expected to restrain the market growth.

COVID-19 Impact Analysis

COVID-19 has impacted every sector; however, the food industry is the majorly impacted one. The pandemic has disturbed the food industry including banana flour market. Although there has been rise in the demand for gluten-free products such as banana flour but supply chain and production blockages and closures have reduced the level of production of the banana flour in the market. Moreover, increase in awareness among the consumers regarding health and better immune system provides lucrative opportunity to the market. The health and healthy food such as banana flour has become a priority for the consumers. Thus, the impact of COVID-19 on banana flour market is from low to moderate.
