"...April is Financial Literacy Month and we recognized a vital need to improve financial literacy and to help Parents to begin educating youth during early learning stages. The sooner that we begin to introduce money basics to children; the better are their chances of developing good money habits and preparing them for success in financial literacy. The Boss Doc Online is intentionally designed to provide the expertise needed to keep a child engaged and motivated to take advantage of financial learning and opportunities to become leaders and in control of their future finances." states Creator and Founder of Smart Money with Boss Doc Online, Dr. Barbara Walker-Green.
