You have a story you can tell whether it's through music or art or work...

You are here for a reason!"

Late Sorrow

Late Sorrow, like some of you, has suffered from depression and suicidal thoughts in the past, as many people do throughout life. It is because of some of you that he's still striving to make relate-able music that can help others through tough times.

Late Sorrow wants to help drive others to their goals in the music that he makes. You have a story you can tell whether it's through music or art or work.

You are here for a reason!
