LIMITLESS 2022 is an influential global gathering of leading global logistics, supply chain, retail, and trade industry professionals. The summit delves deeper into the limitless opportunities within the logistics universe. It is designed to build a community of industry leaders and experts to enable open sharing of knowledge, key trends, and best practices that drive better decision-making and accelerated business performance in a rapidly evolving logistics ecosystem.

The event speakers will share insights on how retailers and logistics service providers are leveraging technology to stay ahead of the emerging delivery trends and other market dynamics. The discussions will revolve around how customers want businesses to ensure instant gratification with faster delivery SLAs, better visibility of their packages, and real-time communications, and how businesses are reimagining how they plan and execute logistics to fulfill these expectations.

Leaders from Emirates Post, DTDC, Jumia Group, Meesho, Zepto, Myntra to speak at "LIMITLESS 2022"

LIMITLESS 2022 will have insightful sessions focusing on exciting and trending topics like 'Transformation in Logistics to Address the Growing Global Demand', and 'Last Mile Playbook: Lessons from Delivering to a Billion'. Global organizations are keenly looking at gaining critical insights on how companies in India are addressing the intricacies of a vast multifarious logistics ecosystem at scale.

The continual disruption of the delivery segment has spurred many new trends in customers' expectations. These trends are also influencing the last-mile delivery ecosystem, catalyzing change like never before.

Hence, brands and businesses are investing in automation and smart delivery solutions that are sustainable, resilient, and extremely efficient.

At LIMITLESS 2022, industry experts will also discuss how the latest technologies, such as AI, ML, IoT, Blockchain and more can empower businesses to gain a competitive edge in the market, reduce manual dependencies, optimize costs and boost customer experience.

"10-minute grocery deliveries spurred a wave of change across the customer expectations, that is no longer limited to groceries, food, retail, or B2B. Faster delivery SLAs, better customer visibility into the order journeys, and real-time brand communications — customer demands are transcending yesterday's business agendas. To match these demands, the industry stakeholders have to assume a role that is limitless," says Soham Chokshi, CEO & Co-founder, Shippy.
