We stay on the cutting-edge of technology.”

Dr. Matthew Lang

“We stay on the cutting-edge of technology,” says Dr. Matthew Lang. “This helps us offer the highest quality care at the most affordable prices possible.”

Technology includes an in-house milling machine to craft CEREC crowns, 3D printers to make temporaries and dentures, and digital scanners to take impressions without goop or discomfort.

Dental implants are one of the most popular services available from DICE Dental. A dental implant replaces missing teeth using a titanium screw, abutment, and crown. They fill in gaps in a patient’s smile, improve speaking and eating abilities, and can last for decades with proper care. At DICE Dental, dental implants in Bethlehem start at $750.

Crowns in Bethlehem start at $650. Crowns are made in-house using a CEREC machine. They are custom-made to match a patient’s existing teeth and placed in as little as two visits.

Finally, dentures start at $499. Partial, conventional, and implant overdentures are available.

“During a free consultation, we will help patients select a treatment plan that meets their oral health and financial needs,” adds Dr. Lang.
