energy. Mellow arpeggiated sequencers and sweeping synthesizers give the song a contemplative and reflective quality, as Zandrah's ethereal voice draws listeners in amongst the warmth of the contemporary production. Electronic drums crescendo and build into a chorus that takes those reflective moments and lets them blossom, led by an EDM drum beat that lends itself to the dancefloor.

The hypnotic syllables of 'We cannot live in this cold world without love-love-love-love-love' serenaded by Zandrah, is a memorable hook that accentuates the meaning of the song. The middle 8 continues the journey with a mesmerising synth section nicely breaking up the track, adding layers of interest and emotion while Zandrah's voice floats in the distance singing 'lights will guide you in the darkness,' a poignant lyric to the sentiment of the song. 'Love' was mixed and mastered by Swedish producer, Ludvigsson.

Zandrah Mereborg and Diego Gabriel Oviedo Bustos have focused a lot of their time and energy delving deep and refining the details of their upcoming releases, inspired by the likes of Sia, Robyn, and Christine and the Queens. They aim to evolve and grow as songwriters and musicians to reach the hearts of listeners.
