The lawsuit filed on March 30, 2022, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California (Court), addresses violations of Title VII of the Civil Rights act of 1964 and religious liberties, among other serious statutory and constitutional violations. The plaintiffs claim the COVID-19 Vaccine Mandates are illegal and unconstitutional in that they purport to remove federal civil rights and constitutional protections. They are asking the Court to issue preliminary and permanent injunctions to block the mandates currently in existence in the California Community College system.
