

Author Andrew Joseph Zaragoza Jr. Brings Inspiration to the Los Angeles Times Festival of Books

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, April 8, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Andrew Joseph Zaragoza Jr. presents XI: A Collection of Poetry on Being Human, a book filled with themes of love and relationships, hardship, perseverance, grit, wonder, and humanity. It's his hope that by reading his book, he can instill inspiration among his readers.

"To commemorate a period of time where I was lost," Andrew said, "I share my insight in a way that made sense to me, through the written word of poetry and visualization." He goes on to share that he was deathly shy as a child and acted out in rather quirky ways, so it's no surprise that the book is under the title: XI, because on a scale of 1 to 10, he's always felt at an 11.

Born and raised in the Gateway Cities, Andrew is a mental health advocate, having received BA in Psychology at California State University, Dominguez Hills. As a family man of many talents, his passions are tied between education, healing and pursuit of the arts. He can also be found online as a podcast host, musician, brand developer, and graphic designer. He is now pursuing a Master's degree in Psychology at California Southern University.

Interested readers may grab a copy of the book at Amazon, Barnes & Noble, and many other online retailers.
